

Diversity is something that our country needs to remain stable. If we all believe in the same thing or act with the same actions, who is to say that we won't become another Nazi regime. People should be allowed to be provided with several points of view to form their own opinions. This is why a company should not be allowed to own more than one TV channel, newspaper, or radio station. Citizens need to be provided with more than one opinion.